Who are we?

"MESSAPIA school promotes the study of Italian language and culture."

Located in a 17th-century palace, it is the ideal place to approach or perfect the study of Italian, but also to immerse oneself in the Italian culture that has always fascinated people. Open to foreigners of all ages and nationalities, it offers various study programs integrated with itinerant lessons in culture, folklore, crafts, dance as well as interesting excursions in the Salento hinterland and in some important cities of southern Italy, which will make the study-stay a pleasant and unforgettable experience.

Location

Salento, the middle land, suspended between the Ionian Sea and the Adriatic Sea. The spaciousness of the sky, the unbridled sunshine, the vast horizons enhance its hues. More than 2,000 square kilometers in area of which as many as 206 are coastal profile. Galatina is a pearl set in the Salento peninsula, with its ancient village and urban fabric characterized by predominantly 18th-century architecture of exquisite artistic refinement. A city of art since 2004, it tells an ancient story through its churches, palaces and courts. It guards the Basilica of St. Catherine of Alexandria, one of the most distinguished monuments of Apulian-Romanesque art dating from the 14th century. At 12 km from the Ionian Sea and 20 km from the Adriatic Sea, it is an ideal place for study as well as entertainment.
